BUILD A BETTER BORDERS

The Borders Railway has become a huge success. It's opened doors for business, leisure and life. With your support, a completed railway can bring even more to the whole Borderlands.

Add your voice for a better Borders, a community that's connected, more prosperous, more inclusive, and a better environment for all.

A petitioner and an activist ever since the 1969 closure, Madge Elliot MBE, told us all: "If folk want their railway back, it's up to them to fight for it!"

Now, with your help, we're closer than ever to achieving that ambition for the Borders.

Join the Campaign for Borders Rail. Support the hard work of lobbying for a new railway, and help put the Borders back on the main line. Be a member. Be an ambassador. Be part of a legacy for generations to come. All it takes is your membership...

"If folk want their railway back, it's up to them to fight for it!"

WHAT IS THE CAMPAIGN FOR BORDERS RAIL?

We're a long-established pressure group promoting the benefits of modern train services for communities across the Borderlands. Our grassroots campaign saw the rail link from Edinburgh to the Scottish Borders reopened.

It's a story of concerned citizens from all walks of life getting together to reverse the devastating loss of the region's train services that came with the closure of the 98-mile Waverley Route main line in 1969.

BUILDING ON SUCCESS

Our initial goal is secure - services on the rebuilt 35-mile 'Borders Railway' from Edinburgh to Galashiels and Tweedbank began in 2015 - now we're lobbying to extend the popular rail link onward to Hawick and Carlisle.

With cross-party support for a new cross-border rail link and a joint UK and Scottish Government growth package for the Borderlands agreed, the stage is set for a transformative investment that will secure a bright future for the whole region.
